452 Traffic Violations In One Week

A total of 452 traffic violations were reported to the dean of men's office last week by the University police, an office announcement disclosed yesterday. Most of these, which is normally more than reported during an entire month, were for parking on the campus without permits.

Commenting on this increase in traffic violations, Dr. T. T. Jones, dean of men, said: "Most of these cases are new students who did not have information on parking regulations. We could not get information to them until The Kernel came out last Friday."

There are 471 parking spaces on the campus and that number of permits has already been issued, Dean Jones said.

It is impossible to issue permits to everyone wanting them but we do all in our power to issue them to the ones needing them most, Dean Jones said.

All present permits expire at the end of this quarter. New permits will be issued to cover the spring quarter sometime around mid-March. Priority on these permits go to physically handicapped, personnel, instructors and students who commute to school from such towns as Mount Sterling, Frankfort, Harrodsburg, Danville, and Richmond.

Some students have protested this system of regulation but it has been ordered by the Board of Trustees as the best means of regulating an unprecedented volume of traffic on the campus streets.

Other colleges are known to have regulations which do not even permit students to own cars, not to restrict their use on the campus, the dean stated.

Parking spaces are provided for visitors in the area between the Administration and Health buildings and all car-users with permits are prohibited from using them. This area is marked with appropriate signs.

See The Notre Dame Game? Ha!

by O. C. Halyard

Don't fret if you don't get tickets for the Notre Dame game. Just sit at home by your radio, and be contented to know that you had as good a chance of getting tickets as those spectators witnessing the game, but old lady luck was just against you in the draw.

You might also get a chuckle out of the statement that Madison Square is called the basketball capital of the world, and the largest crowd to see a game there was 18,439—Kentucky vs. St. Johns, '46—while some 30,000 or 40,000 would anxiously pay to see the Cats and Irish scrap.

Distribution of the tickets left after the priority group, which was composed solely of paid-up members of the alumni, receives their share. In the first day's mail for the non-priority group ticket requests were received from New Mexico, New York, and other distant places.

This Kentucky-Notre Dame game is no longer a sectional affair. With the Wildcats constantly winning national honor and being heralded as the nation's No. 1 quintet, a game such as the one to be played in Louisville, becomes the property of the nation as a whole.

So if your name isn't drawn out of the box, be consoled in the thought that thousands of others are sitting at home—Notre Dame students and alumni as well as Kentuckians who should be there—listening to the radio.

"Jane Eyre" Shown

"Jane Eyre," starring Joan Fontaine and Orson Welles, will be shown at 6:15 p. m. Monday in the Student Union ballroom, according to Mrs. John Evans, social director.

About 150 students saw last Monday's film, "Joads of London," Mrs. Evans said. Under the sponsorship of the Activities committee, every Monday night this quarter.

Admission price is ten cents and the shows end by 8:15 p. m. Weekly announcements will be made of the next film.

Annual Farm Home Convention Scheduled For January 28 — 31

This year, in spite of the housing shortage, which has caused many universities to postpone any large meetings, the College of Agriculture and Home Economics will present the 35th Annual Farm and Home Convention.

The convention begins at 9:30 a. m., January 28, and ends the afternoon of January 31. An important feature will be the Farm and Home Equipment Show in the Ag Engineering building.

This show includes exhibits and demonstrations of latest electrical and gas equipment and water systems for farm homes, building and materials displays, farm machinery, labor-saving devices, gas and electric welders, an exhibit of DDT and corn borer control, and the new two-man machine for housing tobacco will be shown to the public for the first time.

The show is open daily during the convention from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., on Tuesday and Wednesday nights from 7:00 to 9:30. Moving pictures on rural life will be shown Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 4 p. m., in room 201, Ag Engineering building.

The section on labor-saving devices which can be made on the farm and other home-makers ideas were so much in demand after last year's show, that the University sent this part on the road for several weeks. Schools were closed in the outlying districts in order that everyone could see the exhibits. This same section will be sent out again this year.

Foremost Artists Exhibit Work Here

A joint exhibition of the work of two of America's foremost artists is now open in the art gallery of the Biological Science building, according to Prof. E. W. Rannels, head of the art department.

Abstract prints, mostly modern woodcuts, by Josef Albers, are included in the showing. Mr. Albers has been associated with the Black Mountain school in North Carolina and was prominent in Germany before coming to this country some twenty years ago, Prof. Rannels said.

Kraus Sculpture Shown

A display of eight small terra cotta figures by Romauld Kraus make up the other part of the exhibition. Mr. Kraus, also a German-American, has been teaching at the Cincinnati Art academy since 1938. He also spends two days a week teaching sculpture at the Art Center in Louisville.

Mr. Kraus, who has won prizes in national art shows, is recognized by most critics as one of the foremost American sculptors, according to Mr. C. Raymond Barnhart of the art department. Two portrait heads are included in the examples of his work.

The terra cotta figures are of particular importance to the University show, Rannels said, because plans have been made to include ceramic kilns in the new fine arts building. Work of this type could then be done here on the campus. "This is no ordinary exhibition," Prof. Rannels said, "it's a most important one."

All Campus Sing To Be Next Month

Representatives of Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Beta, Phi Mu Alpha, and Mortar Board, met last Tuesday to draw up plans for the all-campus sing, which will be held February 19 in Memorial hall.

All societies, fraternities, and independent organizations on the campus are invited to enter a choral group in the sing, which will be confined to spirituals and semi-classical music.

The winners of the men's group and women's group will each be presented with a cup, which they will retain until the contest the following year. If one choral group wins a cup for three consecutive years, they will retain the cup permanently.

Further information and application blanks are being sent to all eligible organizations this week.

Another 3.

Mary Dolores Slaughters, commerce college sophomore from Henderson, should have been included in the list of students making perfect standings during the first quarter of 1946-47, according to Miss Jane E. Middleton, secretary of the dean. The name was inadvertently left off the list printed in the Kernel last week.

Sokolsky Is Fourth Te Deum Speaker

Columnist Speaks In Memorial Hall

George E. Sokolsky, who will be the fourth speaker in the current Te Deum Forum series, will speak on "The Battle of Life" at the University's Memorial hall on Sunday, January 19 at 8 p. m. Mr. Sokolsky's column, which appears daily in the Lexington Leader, is reported to be the fastest growing in America today.

Sokolsky, the son of a Jewish rabbi, was born in Utica, New York in 1893. In 1917, after completing college, he went to Russia to be a correspondent for the "New Republic News Service." He later went to the "Russian Daily News," an English language paper, as editor. In 1918, he went to Peking to work for the "North China Star," where he remained for thirteen years. During his stay in China he was a foreign correspondent, editor of an engineering magazine, advisor to Chinese officials, and political advisor to American business firms.

Back in the United States, Mr. Sokolsky began a series of lectures and writings on China and Japan; but when labor came to the fore as a national problem, he turned his attention to the Communists in the ranks of the working people. From 1937 to 1941, he broadcasted for the National Association of Manufacturers. He is the author of "Outlines of Universal History," "Tinder Box of Asia," "Labor's Fight for Power," "We Jews," and other works.

The remainder of the Te Deum series includes Dean Clarence E. Manion of the University of Notre Dame Law School on February 9; Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, the "Glasgow Priest," on March 23; and the Rev. James M. Gillis, editor of "The Catholic World," on April 17.

Officers of the Te Deum Forum for 1947 include Walter W. Hillen, Jr., president; Dudley J. Burke, vice president; and J. S. Swift, secretary-treasurer.

Kenton "Band Of The Year" Comes To UK

Stan Kenton, acclaimed by several critics as "The savior of American music," brings to the campus January 25, his aggregation of 25 musicians termed collectively in a nation-wide poll as the "Band of the Year" for 1946.

Kenton's orchestra, which will play for the Student Union dance in the Bluegrass room from 9 until 12, features 20-year-old June Christy, voted the most popular female vocalist in the country in another music fan poll of last year. Sharing the vocal lime-light with Miss Christy will be "The Pastels," a new quintet organized by Kenton after a search for voices to blend with the type of music originated by him during the last year. These new arrangements are described by Kenton as "progressive jazz," and are played by his band without the use of clarinets.

Advance ticket sale for next week's attraction will continue through next Friday in the Union building. The admission price is two dollars per person and the 1600 tickets placed on sale this week represent the total to be sold. There will be no sales at the door.

Homecoming For Wetzel

Kenton plays the piano while former UK student Ray Wetzel plays first trumpet for the orchestra. Since leaving the University, Wetzel played with the Woody Herman and Bobby Sherwood bands before joining Kenton in 1945.

Capitol records have promised his orchestra twelve record releases for the coming year. Six will be of the progressive jazz styling, and the others will be juke box releases. "Metronome," national magazine publishing a monthly review of the music world, devoted its January issue to Kenton and his orchestra in recognition of the "Band of the Year" award presented Kenton by the music critics.

"Metronome" said: "Stan Kenton's is obviously the band of 1946. Whether you like its music or not makes little difference, counts not at all in fact, for it is so clear to everyone whose musical ears and eyes have been open during the past year, that this band has taken the biggest strides and has achieved a greater portion of success than any other band in the land during 1946."

Howard Here For Arrangements

Gene Howard, former vocalist for the Kenton band and advance publicity man for the organization since last year, spent last weekend on the campus making final arrangements for the band's appearance.

Howard also completed arrangements with Sigma Nu fraternity for a buffet supper with which the fraternity will honor the Kenton band following the dance next week. Howard was a guest at the Sigma Nu house over the weekend and left Sunday night to precede the band to its future dates.

All Campus Invited To Four Seminars

T. B. (Scotty) Cowan, pastor of Everybody's church in Lexington, will be one of four principle speakers during Religious Emphasis Week, January 20-24, which is being sponsored at the University by Interfaith Council, YMCA, and YWCA.

Mr. Cowan's subject for a seminar Monday through Thursday, in room 205 of the Union, will be "Christianity and the Social and Economic Problems of the South." All students, faculty, and staff, are invited to attend any of the four seminars, according to Harold Friedly and Joan Scott, co-chairmen of the planning committee.

Mr. Cowan was born in Scotland, attended public school there and was planning to enter Edinburgh university when World War I broke out. He served four and a half years in the British Army, first as a private in the Black Watch and later as a sapper in the Royal Engineers.

After he came to America he worked for a time in the steel mills and coal mines of Pennsylvania. He then attended Cumberland university, Vanderbilt, and Yale, and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago. Before accepting the call to become minister of Everybody's church, on December 1, 1946, he was minister of the North Religious Fellowship in Tennessee.

Three Others Conduct Seminars

The three other leaders for the week are Rabbi Lawrence A. Block of the Ohev Shalom congregation in Huntington, West Virginia, whose seminar subject will be "Responsibility of Students in the World Order," and Olof Anderson Jr., pastor of the Richmond Presbyterian church, whose seminar will be on "Resources of Religion for Personal Life," and the Rev. James Kennedy, minister of Christ Episcopal church, Lexington, whose subject will be "Preparation for Marriage."

During Religious Emphasis Week these four leaders will appear at various campus organization meetings and on Wednesday night will lead discussions in residence units. Any student who wishes to have a personal interview with any of the leaders may contact them through the YWCA office.

The film, "Grapes of Wrath," is being presented for the engineers and their wives or dates. All residents of Cooperstown are cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged; the show will start at 7:30 p. m.

The Council was reactivated on October 28, 1946, for the two-fold purpose of promoting cooperation between the students and faculty, and improving in general the College of Engineering. The organization is composed of two members from each of the four engineering societies, and two members elected at large from the freshman assembly.

The following men represent their respective groups: Ed Jones and Ed Whitfield, AIMME; Howard Stewart and Rufus Ritchie, AIMME; Ed Youngblood and Edward Elder, ASME; Ralph Sullivan and Gus Green, ASCE; James H. Basketball Seating Plan

"Early birds at the Kentucky basketball games definitely haven't been getting the worm"—that seems to be student opinion.

Complaints have come from several students that even if a fan arrives at the gym at 7:30 he has no better chance of getting a "good seat" than one who arrives at game time or even after the game has begun.

Some top-row sitters feel they have been mistreated when they see students arriving late and being seated in the lower sections, when the only seats available five minutes before were those in row 25.

An investigation of the inevitable other side reveals that the athletics department has made an honest effort to seat students fairly—those who come first in the best seats.

According to general opinion, the best seats in the gym are those in the center just above the rail, and the early arrivals get these. (Those coming very, very early are seated in box seats.) For instance, let's take the east side of the gym, sections D, E, and F. The seats behind the rail are in section E. Then the next best seats are those on each side of E, from the middle of sections D and F over to E. Third best are those beside the rail in the bleacher seats. Fourth are "Guilty of inciting a riot and disorderly conduct," barked the judge. Thus ended the first episode of a new anti-Negro, anti-Jewish secret organization calling itself Columbians, Inc.

What brought on the charge? A Negro family was moving into a house recently vacated by a white family when a group of outraged rabble-rousers attempted to stop them. Fortunately, the Atlanta city police decided to resist the "pro-American activities" of this "American nationalist organization" and clapped the ring-leaders of the demonstration in jail.

Once more down South decent citizens are guiding themselves for a battle with an intolerant organization that believes itself to be pure American. A few years ago it was the Ku Klux Klan. Today it is Columbians, Inc.

Their leader, an obscure young organizer with the unheroic name of Homer Loomis, makes no bones about the organization's objectives. They wish to make the United States an "American nationalistic state," which would require the deportation of all Negroes to Africa and Jews to Palestine, and would make America a "one-race nation."

It is doubtful if many Americans will take the Columbians seriously. It is doubtful if many Germans took Hitler's Brown Shirts seriously back in the early '20s.—From the University of Virginia College Topics.

Wright or Wrong

On Monday morning I received one of those ominous summonses from the dean's office and went over Monday afternoon to see what was troubling them. I spent 15 minutes sitting before some bright girl explained to me that I was in the office of the wrong dean. However, while I was waiting I picked up the latest issue of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which listed some college enrollments for October, 1946, which seemed to be the latest data for which statistics are available. The figures proved to be very interesting, especially since so many men are griping because there are not enough women to go around. The figures make it seem even more disheartening.

In the state, there are 26,530 white students. Of these, 17,154 are men and 9,376 are women. This proportion in percentages is approximately 64½% men and 35½% women. This means about two men-students for every woman student. Breaking the figures down further I had a course in college algebra once and I still haven't gotten over it) 46%, don't know your prospective date or 12,212, men are veterans, which means that nearly half of the students going to school in Kentucky are veterans. Of the women, 209 are veterans and the other 9,167 don't know an M-I from a B-4 (for that matter, neither do I).

This figure, 26,530, represents a gain over 1945 of 12,712, which means the golden age ended about a year ago last New Year's Eve. Enough of figures.

Those of us who fought the war in Texas and on other fronts have heard some of the amazing stories of some of our more fortunate brethren tell. For instance, just the other night I heard a man swear that in 1944 you could go in any sorority house on the campus, line the women up, take your choice, and tell them to be ready in half an hour. Or if you wanted to be a piker and confine yourself to one woman, you could usually get by with telling her to be ready in fifteen minutes. These stories add particular poignancy to those statements all veterans make about losing some of their best years in the Army.

But to get back to the present, nowadays getting a date is like planning a major campaign. If you don't know your prospective date very well, you have to get some mutual friend to recommend you.

the ones next to the walls on the outside sections above the rail and the ones nearer the top of the gym. Fifth—and these are considered so because they are impermanent seats and sitting in them necessitates having one's knees in someone's back and someone's knees in one's back—are those which are nearer the floor. That's why you see late-comers sitting in the lower-row seats.

A considerable amount of time is spent in arranging the seat stubs so that all this will be in order, and the men at the door try to do all they can to keep order in the seating arrangement. No one can deny that the present plan at least is better than the one used last year by which seats were handed out at random and anyone sat anywhere regardless of his ticket.

Apparently it's a choice of the two evils—last year's system, which never assured anybody of anything, and this year's which at least eliminates most of the confusion. If you happen to be unlucky enough to get in when the top sections are filling up, pray for rain and better luck next time.

As we think it was Lincoln said, you can't please all of the people all of the time; it's enough to please some of the people some of the time.

High School Letters

Custom and what-have-you at the University decrees that men who won letters in high school sports take these letters off their sweaters when they come to college.

Seems that a letter worn on a sweater indicates allegiance to that school above all others, and when one comes to a university he is supposed to be adult enough to throw off "childish things."

Wearing of letters also isn't quite fair to those who have worked to deserve letters here at the University. So several persons have asked that men with high school letters on their sweaters remove the letters, please.

We wonder how many of the students who bought Hershey bars in the bookstore Wednesday realized that they were getting less chocolate for their inflationary nickels. As well as we can remember (having no old Hershey wrappers by which to check) a bar used to contain about 1½ ounces of chocolate and from 6 to 8 almonds. We forgot to count the nut content, but the weight of the bar was only 1 ounce.

Now that the campus has been so brightly illuminated, campus courters are "Beginning to See the Light."

Then, you've got to have some bait to dangle in front of the girl's eyes, so you've got to find out what is going to be happening two (or, perhaps, three) weeks hence. After that, you are pretty well set to make your first move. All you can do is trust to luck and your guardian angel. No wonder a great many men are turning into misogynists. Poor devils.

Bands 'n Stuff

by Charles Whaley

Frankie Carle gets the vote as the top band of last year, according to the BILLBOARD. His Columbia records "Rumors Are Flying," and "Oh! What It Seemed to Be" out-sold all others.

In second place was Freddy Martin, who had three top discs in "To Each His Own," "Symphony," and "Doin' What Comes Nat'ur'ly." Following in order of popularity were Sammy Kaye, Eddy Howard, Kay Kyser, and Vaughn Monroe. Noticeably absent from the list were the Dorseyes, both Tommy and Jimmy, and Woody Herman.

Gaining steadily in popularity is the tune, "Anniversary Song" which was featured in "The Jolson Story." The melody is taken from a theme of "Danube Waves," a classic by J. Ivanovici. The popular version was done by Al Jolson with the help of Saul Chaplin, a professional who turned out "I Should Care."

No recorded versions are available yet.

Jazz tunes are noted for their unique names. Latest titles to be waxed are "Ol' Man Rebo," "Snake Pit," "Low Flame," "Allen's Alley," and "Anthropology."

"Pit" is by Leo Watson on Signature. The others are done by Dizzy Gillespie and Coleman Hawkins on Victor.

Many of the national fraternities with chapters on our campus can boast of bandleaders or musicians among prominent alumni. James Melton was a Delta Tau Delta; Hoagy Carmichael was a Kappa Sigma; Rudy Vallee was a Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Kay Kyser, Johnny Long, Griff Williams, the late Glenn Miller, and Howard Barker, were Sigma Nus; and Woody Herman was a Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Four tunes from "The Time, The Place, and The Girl" seem to be headed for the big-time. "A Gal in Calico" has already made the Hit Parade, and "Through a Thousand Dreams," "A Reiny Night in Rio," and "Oh, But I Do" are among the songs with the greatest radio audiences.

Look for show tunes—that is, tunes from Broadway plays—to get more plugging now. A greater number of musical comedies is now on Broadway, and some of them have quite a few good songs in their scores.

"The Old Devil Moon" and "If This Isn't Love" from "Finian's Rainbow" have been recorded by Charlie Spivak on Victor. Freddy Martin has waxed "There's No Holding Me" from "Park Avenue." "Tomorrow Mountain" and "When I Walk With You" seem to be the top items in Duke Ellington's "Beggars Holiday." "The Helen Hayes vehicle, "Happy Birthday" features the tune, "I Haven't Got a Worrry in the World," which is getting quite a bit of play at the moment. Of course, "Call Me Mister," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Carousel," and "Oklahoma!" are still running, but their tunes have already reached the popularity peak.

Stan Kenton and his orchestra, who play here at the SUB January 25, will be entertained with a buffet supper, following the dance, by Sigma Nu fraternity. A good gesture of Kentucky hospitality.

Some of the miscellaneous exchange publications which end up battered and torn in The Kernel newsroom each week may not be pure works of art, but they do reflect the laser views of student minds on many campuses over the nation.

We take pleasure in presenting some of the dirtier work of art which springs Poe-like from the minds of students on other campuses. Of course we know that UK students would never think of such things. Heaven forbid!

Dr. Evans Proves Authority On Unusual Legal Question

In an unusual case before the Kentucky court in November, a testator dealing with the subject of the action and written by Dr. Alvin E. Evans, dean of the Law school here at UK, has been used in deciding the resultant affirmation of the action in tort. A testator, "A," draws up a will in favor of two heirs, "B" and "C." Shortly before "A's" death and while she was in a state of non-compos mentis, "B" destroyed the will. A daughter of "C" has acted to prove the existence of the will as the last of the testator. Dean Evans' publication on the subject has been given credit as one of the very few authorities on the question.

The Sigma Nus are planning to entertain the Stan Kenton band after the Union dance next Saturday night with a buffet supper at the chapter house. The party is the result of correspondence between Kenton and George Rice, who is in charge of the arrangements.

Gene Howard, advance publicity man for the Kenton band, was in Lexington last Saturday and Sunday as a guest of Rice. The Sigma Nus entertained him as they made final plans for the after-the-dance supper. A pre-dance gathering will be impossible due to the late arrival of the orchestra, but a post dance party was termed more satisfactory.

Jack Wilson, announcer on the Louisville WHAS "Operations Clambake" radio record program, has been invited to the party and has tentatively accepted. Lexington radio stations have also been contacted on the possibilities of a broadcast from the chapter house during the party. The Sigma Nu-Kenton supper will parallel the party given the Johnny Long orchestra by the Sigma Nus during the name band dance in the Union last May 28.

Wilson Books Moved Here

The University of Kentucky library has begun the task of transferring the library of the late Judge Samuel M. Wilson from his home and office to the University campus.

The collection, left the University when Judge Wilson died last October, comprises several thousand books and manuscripts principally on Kentucky history and the history of the Presbyterian church, but includes valuable early editions of classics of English literature dating from the early 17th century. Miss Jacqueline Bull, head of the University library archives department, said.

Judge Wilson's library will form a special collection. Miss Bull added, but it cannot be displayed now because of limited space. Plans are being formulated to provide suitable quarters.

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the University history department, Winston Coleman, and W. H. Townsend, are the literary executors of Judge Wilson's estate and are supervising the transfer of the Wilson collection. Cataloging must be completed within five years.

Judge Wilson, whose collection is one of the largest ever left the library, was born in Louisville October 15, 1871, and attended Centre College, Williams College, and the Law School of Centre College. He was awarded an LL.D. by Transylvania in 1924.

His widow, Mary B. Shelby Wilson, is a native of Lexington and a descendant of Isaac Shelby, Kentucky's first governor.

Judge Wilson, a lifelong book collector, practiced law in Lexington and taught law at Transylvania University from 1908-10. During the first World War he was commissioned a major and became judge advocate of the 77th Division National Army, first at Plattsburg, N. Y., and later in France. He received his honorable discharge in 1919.

He was awarded the Algernon Sydney Sullivan medal by the University in 1929. Judge Wilson was a member of many organizations, among them Kappa Alpha and Omicron Delta Kappa. He was the author of numerous books and magazine articles most of them dealing with Kentuckians.

Former UK Head Coach Is Speaker For Founders Day

Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, will be the principal speaker for the third annual observance of Founders Day at the University, on February 21, Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, UK vice president, has announced.

From 1913 to 1916 Dr. Tigert served as director of athletics and head coach at UK, and one feature of the Founders Day observance will be a luncheon at which members of the 1913 football team he coached will be guests of honor. A souvenir edition of The Kernel will be published, and a special radio program will be broadcast over 11 Kentucky stations.

In 1944, the Board of Trustees approved a resolution establishing Founders Day at the University, and directed that an appropriate program should be held on the campus annually to mark the event. Ordinarily February 22 is the date commemorated because on February 22, 1965, the General Assembly of Kentucky enacted a law creating the institution. The 1947 Founders Day observance is being held on February 21 as February 22 falls on Saturday, when convocation exercises cannot be held.

Chairmen of Founders Day committees are:

Program, Dr. Chamberlain and James W. Whitehouse; music, Miss Mildred Lewis; convocation, Dean W. S. Taylor and E. B. Farris; luncheon, Miss Helen King, Miss Jane Haselden, and Bernice A. Shively; souvenir Kernel, Dr. L. Niel Plummer, Ezra L. Gillis, and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin; broadcast, E. G. Sulzer, H. H. Downing, Miss Margaret King, and Mr. Gillis; publicity, R. W. Wild.

Dr. Lincicome Elected To Medical Fellowship In Royal Society

Dr. David R. Lincicome, assistant professor of zoology, has received notification of his election to a fellowship in the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, London, is was announced this week.

Considered one of the world's foremost organizations for the development and study of tropical medicine and parasitology, the English society has a membership of over 1,700 throughout the world. However, only about 100 United States citizens have been invited to membership.

Dr. Lincicome's lifetime appointment was recommended to the royal society by two Tulane professors, Col. Charles Franklin Craig and Prof. Ernest Carroll Faust, with whom he has been associated in past research and study.

Wrote On Amebiasis

The chief work for which Dr. Lincicome has been honored is his research and publication of findings on "amebiasis," particularly in aspects of diagnosis of the disease. "Amebiasis" is a parasitic disease caused by a minute ameba that invades the large bowel and sometimes other parts of the body, he explained.

Dr. Lincicome is a native of Champaign, Ill., and has been associated with the University department of zoology since September, 1941. He came to UK from Tulane university where he was an assistant in tropica medicine from 1937-41 and prior to this was an assistant in zoology at the University of Illinois in 1936-37.

He is a veteran of three years service in the Army, the last year of which was overseas where he rose to the rank of major in the Sanitary Corps.

Lochner Talks On Germany

Louis P. Lochner, Pulitzer prize winner and former head of the Associated Press Bureau in Berlin, addressed an all-student convocation in Memorial hall Tuesday, January 15 at 11 a. m. on the subject, "Germany, Democracy or Soviet State?"

Pointing out the conflict between Russia and the U. S. over Germany's political future, Mr. Lochner stated that we should change our approach to the problem "from a punitive one to a curative one" since "we are stuck with Germany whether we like it or not." The Germans may fall into a totalitarian way of life if the west fails to do enough for them. At least they are familiar with that form of government "even if indications are that they would rather play ball with us."

Even though Russia has imperialistic ambitions, Mr. Lochner reminded his listeners that Russia has yielded "when we have taken a very firm stand."

The solution to the problem in Germany lies in a positive re-education of the German people, Mr. Lochner said. The German war machine has been destroyed and negative policies can be forgotten.

Mr. Lochner concluded by pointing out the uncertainty of Germany's future political status and called it "Germany's pivotal question of the hour."

Vice-president of the University Leo M. Chamberlain introduced the speaker and the Rev. John Kimbrough Johnson, pastor of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church, gave the invocation and the benediction.

CAP Opens Clubhouse

The Civil Air Patrol has recently opened a new clubhouse in the rear of the Veteran's Administration building two blocks west of Broadway on Main street. This has marked the organization's greatest advance since it was reactivated in Lexington recently.

All University CAP members and former Air Force personnel are urged to attend the next meeting at the clubhouse Monday at 8 p. m. to acquaint the membership with the training program and the new commanding officer.

Recent activities include a joint AAF-CAP air show held last November and bingo parties held in the clubhouse for the purpose of purchasing aircraft and training equipment.

The organization is composed of former Air Force men and teen age boys and girls interested in furthering the cause of aviation and national defense. It was formed shortly before Pearl Harbor as a section of Civilian Defense and performed many valuable services during the war. In 1943 it was transferred to the AAF as an auxiliary.

Barlow Wins Free Throw; 39 Teams Listed In Tourney

by O. C. Halyard

Bill Barlow, SN, did some sharp shooting at the basket and dropped through 62 out of 75 attempts Monday night to squeeze out first money in a close free throw contest that saw three boys go into extra work-outs, after trying at 40-all in the original 50 flings.

The pressure was really on as Harry Gorham, SX, and pre-tourney favorite, and Bill Mayhugh, SN, missed only ten each over the two nights to end in a three way tie with Barlow.

It was just a case of Barlow being a little sharper Monday night missing only eight out of his 50. He marked up the lowest score of the three in Friday night's qualification throws with an even 20 out of 25, while Mayhugh pitched in 21 and Gorham eased through 23.

Winner Hits 22 Out Of 25
Gorham missed eight and Mayhugh six in the first 25 Monday night, thus the three-way tie. All three boys adjusted their sights for the additional bout, and Mr. Barlow singled the netting for 22, while his opponents made 21 each.

This left Mayhugh and Gorham tied at 61 each for the runner-up honors, and brought about another 25 shots for the two along with greatly increased pressure. However, both contestants held up nicely and calmly tossed in an additional 20 goals each, to remain deadlocked at 81 out of a round 100. Both received runner-up medals.

Other Finalists
Seven others made a qualifying 17 or better in the Friday night portion of the contest and were on hand to pitch in the finals. Tuell, SAE, chalked up a close 39 in the first overall 50; E. Siria, SN, 38; R. Pullian, ATO, 37; Gordon, Ind., 36; R. Worster, Ind., 35; J. Stewart, ATO, 34; and C. Harris, SN, who withdrew with 28 out of 45.

The basketball tournament promises to be the largest in UK intramural history with 39 teams, 24 independents and 15 Prat, signed for action when registration closed. Because of the overwhelming turnout, many teams were unable to get practice dates at school and had to take to other hardwood courts around town to "limberup."

Play begins Monday on the round-robin basis, and McCubbin stated that schedules will be posted this afternoon on the intramural bulletin board. He said it will be necessary to have an Independent and Fraternity league, with the Prat league divided into two divisions, and the Independent league containing four divisions.

Referees' Meeting Today

He also requested that all basketball officials report to the intramural office this afternoon at 3 o'clock for a general meeting and discussion of rules.

As for those fall tennis tournaments that were interrupted by the weather, McCubbin announced this week that finals will be played in the Women's gym in the very near future. As soon as a date can be scheduled, all contestants will be notified.

Universal Change For FM Stations Affects WBKY

The University's frequency modulation educational radio station, WBKY, will change its location on the FM band beginning with the evening program schedule, Monday, January 20, Elmer G. Sulzer, University director of radio activities, announced yesterday.

The station will abandon its present assigned frequency of 42,900 in favor of a new assignment of 44,500 kilocycles at the request of the Federal Communications Commission, Sulzer explained. The change is universal since the FCC is clearing this section of the FM band for the use of other types of stations, he added.

A further change in operation of the University station is pending. Approval was recently given WBKY to construct a new antenna in anticipation of an increase in wattage to 1,000 watts and a change of frequency to 91,300 kilocycles.

Return Of Hayes Helps UK Fencers Against Charleston

by Winfield Leathers

With the return of Stanley Hayes, former varsity member of Kentucky's fencing team, prospects have brightened for the thrusters against the Charleston, W. Va., fencers in Alumni gym at one o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Hayes, a leading saber man before the war, is still eligible for competition and will head the saber group which also lists Maine and Christen. Hayes is also helping Coach Karl Holland to work the team into shape for Saturday's match.

Strong Charleston Club
Kentucky's club will be at a disadvantage in fencing their first post-war match, against the best team in this area, but Coach Holland says he expects the club "to make a creditable showing." The semi-professional Charleston club, the top rankers in the south-eastern United States, will be host for a return match in Charleston March 1. Kentucky's last match was in 1942.

Kaufman, Brown, Thompson, and a fourth man to be decided will compose the foil team, while Brown is being called on for double-duty as he serves with Ungerleider and LeGette on the Epee roster.

The public is invited to witness the first local match in five years, for which there will be no admission, charged.

Raise In Subsistence
Pay For Veterans
Is KASV Subject
Problems of promoting a new state constitution and discussions on a raise in subsistence pay for student veterans will top a meeting of the Kentucky Association of Student Veterans to be held in Louisville on today and Saturday. KASV President Howard Bowles, Hazard junior at the University, announced.

A state-wide committee composed of representatives of the KASV from each member school and headed by Robert Babbage, Harlan junior at UK, has been set up to study and promote the proposed constitution, Bowles disclosed. The association is on record, he said, as favoring the change and will head a report from its committee at the Louisville meeting.

The association also will discuss the possibilities of an increase in student veterans payments from $65 to $90 monthly for unmarried students and from $90 to $125 a month for married veterans under Public Law 346. Harry W. Farmer, regional manager of the Veterans' Administration, is scheduled to speak to the student veterans as will other leading and recognized authorities in various fields.

'Cat Cagers In Form Again, Win Over Dayton, Vandy

by Tom Diskin

Kentucky's 'Cats are back in the groove, but definitely. The Dayton and the Vanderbilt games proved this. In these two games the Wildcats scored a total of 152 points against only 59 for the opponents; the total for this season is now 1,035 markers scored by the Blue and White for an average of exactly 69 per game at the half-way point of the 1946-47 season. Opponents have averaged a feeble 35.8 tallies. The Kentuckians start the second half with a record of 14 wins and one loss (Oklahoma A.&M.).

The three high scorers on the Wildcat cage team are Beard with 172 points, an average of 11.4 per game. Next comes big Alex Groza with a 150 total, for a 10-point average; Ken Rollins, team captain, is third with 125, for an average of 8.3 markers each contest.

Rollins has set a new record here at Kentucky with his free throws. He has made in the last three games 15 straight charity tosses, two in the Ohio game, five straight against Dayton; eight for eight in the Vandy contest. He has now made 33 free throws in 39 tries for the season.

Kentucky 70, Dayton 29

The Ruppmen showed much improvement over the Ohio U. game in trouncing the Red and Blue quintet of Dayton University. It was victory No. 13 for the 'Cats.

Six-foot, seven-inch Groza led the scoring with 19 markers—the individual high scoring mark this season for the basketekers. The mild-mannered center from Martins Ferry, Ohio, scored 8 goals in nine attempts and tossed in three free throws. Rollins continued his fine play, scored 15 tallies to follow Groza in total points for this game. Jim Line, freshman forward from Akron, Ohio, scored all his seven points in the first half. Barker, Beard and Jones all did well. Beard and Tindle were held scoreless for the first time in the 1946-47 season, leaving only Groza and Rollins as the 'Cat cagers who have scored in all 15 games played thus far. Kentucky started off fast and led 14-4, after six minutes of play, then jumped the score to 32-11, and at the half, 36-11. In the second half the Blue and White increased the slaughter to 55 to 25, and finally 65-26 before the final gun stopped the game with the count of 70 to 29. Dayton, being very inaccurate, made only three goals in 28 tries in the first half.

Kentucky 82, Vanderbilt 30
The rampaging Wildcats from Lexington inflicted upon Vanderbilt the worst defeat the Tennesseans have ever suffered. Had Baron Rupp so desired, the Blue Grass boys could have pushed the final score over the 100 point mark, but late in the game the Wildcats coasted along with a comfortable lead. The Kentucky cagers looked like themselves once more, in scoring 30 field goals and 22 free throws; Vanderbilt could garner only ten goals and 10 free throws. Groza led the Kentucky scorers for the third consecutive time in hitting for 13 markers; Line and Rollins followed with 10 tallies each. Every Wildcat scored except Joe Holland, one of the best rebounders on the squad.

More than 11,000 Nashville cage fans saw the much-respected Kentuckians start off slowly, but gain momentum as the game wore on. It was 9-7 early in the fray, but the Wildcats got hot and took a 28-7 lead and then 34-16 as the first half ended. The second half saw the Ruppmen take a staggering 59-19 lead and as the final whistle blew the score was 82 to 30. All 16 men on the squad made the trip to Nashville.

University Purchases $7,500 In Surplus Office Equipment

The University has purchased and received an estimated $7,500 worth of surplus office equipment of closed Office of Price Administration bureaus in this region, Frank D. Peterson, University comptroller, has announced.

The entire inventory of closed OPA offices in the cities of Lexington, Covington, Newport, Maysville, Flemingsburg, Hazard, and Jackson, consisting of virtually every type of furniture and office equipment, was purchased from the War Assets Administration, he explained.

The usual 95 percent discount on government valuation was granted in the purchase of every item except typewriters for which only 40 percent discount was allowed. Peterson said.

"We consider it very fortunate that priority was granted the University to obtain this much-needed material. The greater part of the items are almost impossible to purchase on the open market at any price without a considerable delay in delivery," he added.

Purchasing Supervisor Ken Broomell declared that the market valuation of the property would range "in the neighborhood of $7,000 to $7,500, approximately $1,000 from each installation." Virtually all of the material is in good condition. Only a negligible quantity remains to be distributed to University departments.

Veteran's Disability Compensation Notice

Suspension of disability compensation payments will result for all Kentucky veterans who fail to report for physical re-examination when notified by the Veterans Administration regional office, it was announced today by Dr. O. P. Miller, chief medical officer. He said re-examinations are scheduled periodically until it becomes apparent that no further improvement in the veterans' disabilities can be expected.

Dr. Miller also pointed out that veterans who have applied for disability compensation must report for physical examinations when they are scheduled, otherwise adjudication of their claims may be delayed indefinitely.

'Cats Meet Vols In Knoxville; Two Georgia Starts On Trip

Ruppmen Favored Against Tennessee, Tech, Georgia

By Baxter Melton

Kentucky, apparently out of a mid-season slump, displays its court artistry in Knoxville Saturday night against long-time rival, Tennessee. The Vol tilt is the first on a three-game road trip that takes the Ruppmen to Atlanta for a tiff with Georgia Tech Monday night, then to Athens Tuesday for a melee with Georgia's Bulldogs.

Both Kentucky and Tennessee have been beaten only once, but the Wildcats have won 14 to the Vols' seven. The Mauerman lost to Long Island, 42-43, in New York's Madison Square Garden the same night that Kentucky topped St. John's, 70-50, in the windup of a twin bill. Since then Coach Adolph Rupp's boys in Blue have lost their stride, but regained it, now appearing headed toward bigger and better things. The Tennesseans met minor foes in early season, winning at ease, but have looked more potent in recent starts by stopping Duke, Mississippi State and Auburn.

'Cats Have Big Edge

In the matter of past records Kentucky holds a big edge, listing 28 victories in 38 tries against Ten-and Paul Walther, Covington, Bill Wright, Art Burris, and Dan Thomas are more basketballers the 'Cats may remember after Saturday's game.

Most impressive win on Tennessee's record is its 53-47 nod over Duke, favorite to win the Southern conference title and which drew much praise on an eastern tour last week. Prior to their Long Island loss, the Vols won four easy ones, routing Lincoln Memorial, 60-24; Milligan, 59-33; Tennessee Tech, 65-22, and East Tennessee Tech, 53-23. They came back from the Garden defeat to whip Duke, then nosed Mississippi State, 35-34, before bumping Auburn, 66-32.

Tech May Be Tough

In the Georgia attempt, Kentucky's toughest try will probably be at Atlanta Monday night, for Tech rates as a "dark-horse" in conference ratings. The Bulldogs at Athens shouldn't prove very tough, but can surprise. The team will leave this afternoon by bus for Knoxville, move to Atlanta Sunday. Tuesday the 'Cats move over to Athens, return to Atlanta after the game that night, come back to Lexington Wednesday.

Making the trip are Rollins, Beard, Groza, Holland, Barker, Tingle, Jordan, Line, Cummins, Brannum, Jones, Campbell, McMullen, Barnstable, Parker and Davis.

The Jones Boys

The Kentucky-Tennessee game in Knoxville Saturday may develop into a court feud between the "Jones boys." Hugh Jones, brother of Kentucky's "Wah-Wah," is a reserve on the Volunteer cage squad, will see much action in the rival renewal.

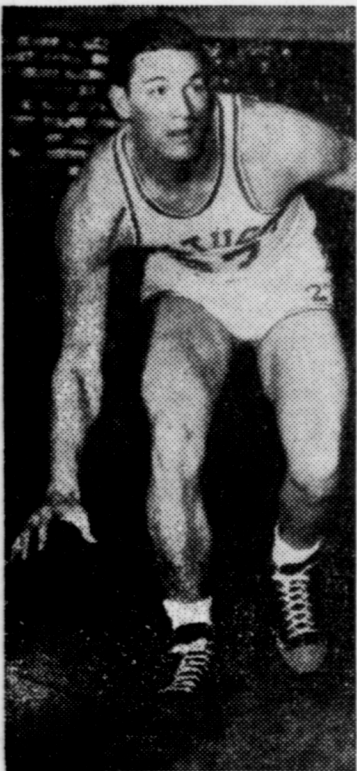

Hugh, 18 months older than "Wah," graduated from high school in 1943, two years ahead of UK's football and basketball star, but spent three years in the Navy before enrolling at Tennessee last fall. The brothers played together three years on grade school teams and then three more campaigns in high school. "Wah" a center, made the varsity while in the eighth grade. Hugh played at forward, stands six feet, two inches, but is lighter than Wallace. This will be the first time they have ever met as opponents.

nessee since Coach Rupp called his first bunch of basketballers together in Alumni gym 17 years ago. Last season the Baron's boys whipped the Vols twice, 50-32, and 54-34. Like its football brother, the Kentucky-Tennessee Thanksgiving extravaganza, however, a 'Cat-Vol cage clash is always good for thrills and spills, literally speaking.

A couple of Vols are back for another go against Kentucky, after military service. Dick Mehen, elongated center, was a Tennessee satellite before, has returned to the varsity aided, wiser and better. The tally totals he and his brother Bernie, 1942 graduate, achieved for the Vols are well remembered by UK students here before the war.

Two Kentuckians With UT

Alternating at center with Dick is Marshall Hawkins, another big boy who can hit the loop. Another veteran and old-time Vol is guard Ted Cook, of whom plenty will be seen Saturday night. Two Kentucky boys on the roster are Hugh Jones of Harlan, brother of "Wah-Wah,"

"Wah-Wah" Jones, soph star, will be playing against brother Hugh in the Kentucky-Tennessee game Saturday night. All-SEC last year as a freshman center, he has been moved to forward recently to take advantage of his point potential, enable Alex Groza and Bob Brannum to see more action at the pivot post.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

Memories of Kentucky-Tennessee basketball bouts of yesteryear are especially vivid to two members of Kentucky's football staff. Though Mike Baltisaris and Ernal Allen finished their court careers five years ago, these two assistants well remember the eight games they played against each other when Ernal was a Wildcat forward and Mike a Vol guard.

Not only did they "play against against each other," but were assigned to stop the other's point production in each of those eight games. The years rolled on, now they are both assistants to "Bear" Bryant, share the same office in Alumni gym.

Six times during the regular season and twice in conference tournaments the pairs were rivals on the hardwood. Mike chuckles when he reminisces that "All those years I wondered if Ernal could talk. We never even said hello to each other until I came here as a coach." The "Mighty Mite" also tells a good story. His father asked him last summer about the assistants. Bryant had named to help him put Kentucky on the football map. When informed that Baltisaris was one of them, the elder Allen said, "Bet he's just a Tennessee scout."

Ernal Allen's football record at Kentucky is well known, his eligibility probably the most discussed topic in Southern football early last fall. Mike's grid history at Tennessee is equally brilliant, played an important part in the Vols' annual contention for SEC honors as well as their post season bowl appearances. He was an end, Ernal a back.

Kentucky won six of those eight meetings. Either of the two never succeeded in outscoring the other to any great advantage until one night in Knoxville, when Ernal totaled 17 points. In recalling that game, Mike concludes that "I just couldn't stop him. He was all over the floor." Kentucky won, 36-33.

Whether the game is played with a piece of pigskin in an open field or a bit of cowhide on an inside court, there just naturally seems to be a bit of added color to Kentucky-Tennessee athletic get-togethers. Tomorrow night's meeting in Knoxville will be the thirty-ninth between the 'Cats and the Vols since Adolph Rupp took over UK's basketball reins in the 1930-31 season. Though the Wildcats have won 28 of these, never does a renewal fail to entertain the clientele, almost always produces a good ball game. In past years an organized group of hecklers has sat behind the Kentucky bench to razz colorful Adolph, when the 'Cats were playing in Knoxville.

One feature that boost the schools' hoop rivalry is Tennessee coach Johnny Mauer's stay at Kentucky before taking over down there. 'Twas Mauer that Rupp succeeded in the fall of 1931, but Mauer went to Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, for seven years before moving to Knoxville in 1938. Thus, not only is there athletic rivalry that has a half-century background, but a coach trying to beat his old school. For the first four years—1939 through 1942—the quintets split season games but Kentucky won both starts in 1943, only to lose to the Vols in the conference tourney finals. The Ruppmen and Mauer never met in 1944, both playing abbreviated seasons because of the war, and since then Tennessee has won only one game from the 'Cats, that being in 1945. Last year Kentucky took both meetings in easy style.

That anything can happen is evident by the 1943 results, however,

Look In "Life"

A story and pictures of Kentucky's basketball team is carried in the January 20 issue of Life magazine, which goes on sale at newsstands today. Written by Dave Zeitlin with photographs by Hy Reskin, the article tells the reasons behind Coach Adolph Rupp's coaching success, touches his systematic scouting and preparation for opponents.

Kentucky's cage squad is being called the "most highly publicized college team in the country," following the RKO-Pathe movie and many stories in various publications.

when Rupp's Raiders won both the scheduled starts, the last one by 53-29 just two weeks before the tourney, then fell, 35-33, in that meet's finale.

No wonder the Baron is anything but optimistic in preparing for an other Knoxville invasion for, as he says, "It's always a dog-eat-dog game."

Greenland is perhaps the coldest area with land-boom name. Eric the Red explored its bleak coasts for three years and in 985 A. D. gave it a pleasant name to lure settlers to its shores.

Coaches Take Peek At Grid Newcomers

Football practice is underway once more on Stoll field, Kentucky's grid gallants hope to equal if not excel last fall's record of seven wins, three defeats. Twenty-one hopefuls began rehearsals Monday afternoon under the direction of end coach Mike Baltisaris.

Calisthenics, fundamentals and "just flipping the ball around" share the athletes' attention. Over half the aspirants are newcomers who enrolled only this quarter. The coaches want a look-see at the new material, are also working out reserves from last year's squad. Nothing in the way of organized practice is planned, for Southeastern conference rules permit only six weeks of spring drills, and those will probably get under way in mid-March.

'Bama May Cause 'Cats Most Worry

Alabama and Tennessee appear to be Kentucky's biggest problems in the Wildcats' quest for their third straight Southeastern conference crown. Most definite light should be thrown on the question this week-end, 'Bama meeting dark-horse Georgia Tech in Atlanta tonight and Georgia in Athens Saturday, while the 'Cats go against Tennessee in Knoxville Saturday night, before a two-game invasion of the Cracker state that pits them against the same two teams Monday and Tuesday.

'Bama's boys have won five loop victories without a loss to van league quintets, are unbeaten all season. Latest triumph was a 45-37 success over previously undefeated Louisiana State Monday night. Tennessee has won seven of eight starts, but only two in conference competition. The Vols routed Auburn, SEC cellar-dweller, 66-32, in their last try, have outscored their two league foes, 101-66.

If comparative scores are indicative—but too many times they aren't—the 'Cats are 37 points better than Alabama, thus any team in the Conference. The Crimson topped Vandy, 49-36, while Kentucky ran over the Commodores, 82-30.

One thing not to be forgotten by SEC fans, and particularly Kentucky fans, is the fact that many squads in the circuit are made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores, will get better as the season progresses. Tourney time in Louisville's Armory is still seven weeks away, anything can happen in the interim. Kentucky's upset by Oklahoma A & M, is proof of this, but that may be the spark that the Wildcats needed to keep them in front for the rest of the race.

The undefeated "Glamourcats" of the Women's athletic association swap hockey sticks for basketballs this week. Several members of last year's championship team have been lost by graduation and other ways, competition for places on this season's squad will be keen.

Inter-sorority basketball practice is being held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3 until 4. Tournament plans are being worked out, and the date will be announced later in this column. Ten sororities will compete for honors in the round-robin affair. W.A.A. will not enter a team. Ruth Wilde, president, has announced.

This year will initiate the traveling trophy plan. Winners must win the trophy three times in succession for permanent possession.
